<https://hbbsupport.superloop.com/hc/en-au/articles/1500005006181>

Below are factors which can affect the speeds received by your End Device(s) within your home (Local-Area-Network (LAN)):

- Connecting to your router or modem router via WiFi instead of an Ethernet LAN cable
- Performance and configuration of your network equipment (such as routers, WiFi extenders).
- Quality and condition of any internal wall data cabling currently in-use.
- The number of users simultaneously accessing the local network and/or internet service at any one time.
- The use of VPN or Proxy software installed on your end device(s) or network equipment.

Actual online browsing and streaming speeds can vary based on the performance and location of the content servers you're accessing, the performance and configuration of any third party network equipment, and the performance of any interconnection infrastructure that Superloop does not monitor or maintain.
